HOW THE CITY'S CREEDIT WAS

The Comptroller has received a letter from a leading New York capitalist dated July 5th, from which we are permitted to make the following extract:

"We are glad that your authorities provided with their usual promptness, for the semi-annual interest on Chicago bonds, due July 1st, inst. Any delinquency in this particular, would put back the credit of your city a quarter of a century."

It is not generally known that the Mayor, Comptroller and Treasurer provided the men-cy—$16,700—to pay this interest in order to preserve the credit of the city untarnished, at the risk of health are risked, and impressed a latter many of mirror which are credit of the credit of your city a quarter of a century."

Senor Perda, Havana Co., ind., James Marks and Henry Meyers, who keep a grocery store corner of Adams and Wells streets, for cheating him in the purchase of some butter he brought to town to sell. They met him on State street and asked him if he wanted to sell his butter, he replied "Yes," and an agreement was made to take it all at 112 cents per pound. The butter was put up in crocks. They weighed it and told him they would pay him for 43 lbs., while he knew it weighed 83 lbs. They told him the crocks weighed 50 lbs., but a subsequent weighing were amongst the arrivals at the Briggs House last evening.

Sciens.—Coroner Jaines held an inquest upon the body of a Swede, named George Petersen, who was found dead in a house at No. 138 North Union street. He had been for some time past a man of intemperate babits, and, as was ascertained, on Wednesday nightbought two outcomes of arsenic at the drug store close by his place of residence. A tambler containing a wifite sediment was discovered in toe room, which led to the inquiry as to where he had been and what he did the night previous. A post-mortem examination developed the fact that he came to his death by means of poison. The verdict of the Jury was in accordance with the facts.

These arrangements will of course make the Sauk Valley country—already so desirable in a natural point of view—still more attractive to the new settler, as there will be vastly more to the new settler, as there will be vasily more travel on this route than on any other in the whole State of Minnesota; and, as a natural con-sequence, property will rise more rapidly here than elsewhere. As a single specimen of the rapidity with which all this part of the country is settling up, I will state the fact—that in one single week, no less than 48 teams left St. Cloud for various points on this route. I will now conclude for the present by adding a list of places and distance the Red River of the North.

The three latter places are on the Red River of the North. Probably in a week or ten days we shall have an account of the first voyage of the Anson Northrup, which I will do my best to send you as specify as possible. E. W. P. S. Noble's party has not been heard from since they left St. Cloud.

A crew of 300 sailors and a guard of marines were yesterday detailed at Brooklyn for the U. S. steam frigate San Jacinto, which vessel, being at last completely ready for see, will go in commission to-day or to-morrow, at noon. The San Jacinto is a sieam frigate of the 2d class, carries, all fold, 20 officers and 400 men, including marines. She is provided with an armament of 13 heavy gma, measures 1,465 tons burthen, and is the first steamer of the American navy ever regularly detailed for the African squadrog. The San Jacinto assisted at the capture of the Barrier Forts on the Canton River, Chins, whence she returned last winter. As placing steam vessels on the coast of Africa is quite an epoch in the history of the American navy, we append a list of the new squadron, premising that never, until now, have we had more than four vessels, and those all propelled by canvas, on that station:

This is a false and wrong system, and in my judgment the sooner it is corrected both in the city and throughout the State the better.

I conclusion I have no hesitation in saying that the city assessors are bound by law to assess property for taxation both real and personal at its actual cash calier, which actual cash value is to be fairly and justly estimated by them as business men without erasion in the same manner as it would be given by them as witnesses called under oath to testify of such value.

3d. The currency based upon the bonds issued by said failroad Companies.

The remarks closed by the Judge offering the following preamble and resolutions, viz:

Wikeros, It has been proposed to build a system of railroads in the State of Minnesots, by lauds granted by Congress, in fact, charged to the people, and by the credit of the State in further aid of the several companies, and Wikeros, The currency based upon the bonds issued to said companies has failen worthless upon our hands.

Rasolcoid, That the people in their primary assemblages and elsewhere, ove it to themselves to take some steps to relieve the State from the assemblages and cliewhere, owe it to themselves to take some steps to relieve the State from the threatened bankruptcy, and themselves from the loss and disaster of a depreciated currency. Resolved, That the amendment to our Consti-tution authorizing a loan of five millions of dol-lars to certain railroad companies was inconsid-erate and unwise, and calls aloud for some cor-rection under the influence of the dollars. hought.

Resolved, That it is our conviction that no nore State bonds should be issued to these nore state bonds should be issued to these ompanies under any pretence whatever, and hat it will be an imperative duty with our next, legislature to provide for the payment of the interest that may accrue on the two millions al-eady issued.

Resolved. That we abhor and loathe repudiaion and that we will, each and every one of us, use our means and influence to save the credit and preserve the honor of Minnesota from so and preserve the honor of Minnesota from so-foul a blot, yet, at the same time, we would as-sare said railroad companies and all in authori-ty, that the best guaranty against such an ex-treme measure of relief is that no bonds be issued by the State in aid of these roads. Resolved, That in our opinion the policy above indicated, of issuing no more State bonds, and of providing for the prompt payment of interest on those issued, is the only method by which the latter can be insale to command anything npeo them, to appreciate to their nominal value.

Death of C. W. Borup-A Marked Character.

[Frequite St. Peal, Monoscina, 7th]
The community were startled yesterday afternoon by the report of the sudden death of Dr. Charles W. Boruy, of the firm of Borup & Oakes of this city. Br. R. had been unwell for two or three days, being subject to a nervous affection, which has frequently prostrated him, and from which his physicians frequently cautioned him against. He was, however, at his office during the morning of vesterday, and only and from which, has physicians frequency can-omed him against. He was, however, at his fice during the morning of yesterday, and only ft about twelve o'clock, as the extreme heat the day was approaching. He was about his ouse for some time—perhaps two or three ours—when, after having taken a seat, he was oticed by the family to breathe with extreme fficulty. Medical aid was soon obtained, but extreme within a few moutes.

"Such a party—which occupies itself in squabbling about the spoils, instead of fighting for principles—whose arrogant leaders openly advocate fraid and usurpatino of power—and whose whole internal organization is a system of petty chicanery, dishonests, principr and positical rottenness—deserves the scorn and contempt of every honest man. There are few which for a time seemed likely to rail in consequence of the downfall of the Railroad currency. This association of State highwaymen are now at St. Paul, at the Faller and American Hotels, honesty, I am forced to conclude that the Democratic party of Minescota is most currupt and deprayed. These professions of economy are, at best hollow, and never would have been made, except for the indignation uttered against the extravagance and corruption with which the Government has been conducted during the present, Administration, which is without a parallel in the history of the Government. They spent over $31,000,000 the first year, according to their own showing, exclusive of a deficit of $10,000,000 which had to be supplied. During the Taylor-Fillmer administration, the expenses of collecting the revenue were, fixed by Congress at $2,500,000. Mr. Secretary Guthrie soon contrived to get rid of that balance and a good deal more, by stocking the Custom Houses with partians and seedy politicians, and, under Democratic rule, the expenses for the same service have run up to $3,500,000 a year. Repeat ed efforts were made by the Opposition side of the House last Seasion, to reduce this expenditure, but on every occasion, the mediate representatives of the Treasury Department reven in this limited reduction, is a virtual confession of judgment, in regard to these abuses and an admission that they ought to have been corrected long ago. the Apache Indians recently excited compas sion, is lecturing at Saratoga upon the incident of her life among the savages: - The St. Louis Democrat, which charged H. Prompt Paternal Punishment.
Yesterday morning as Warden Van Slyke was standing in the Penitentiary yard, he saw a girl in a pasture field at some distance and on the river west of the Penitentiary, who seemed to have been intercepted by two young men and to be trying to escape from them. The Warden started towards the group and as soon as the girl and him him she ran toward him. See proved to be the daughter of a farmer living near, and had been to drive the cows to pasture, when she was waylaid by the men who accosted her in such a manner as to leave no doubt of their evil intentions. The young men were from the village of Alton. The Warden had some parley with the men during which the frightened girl ran for home, where she related the affair to her father, who started for the Penitentiary where they found Mr. Van Slyke, the two men having gone towards the depot.

The father and the Warden followed after. The young men saw the pursoit and took to an alley but were intercepted and caught. They denied vociferously any improper attempts or intentions towards the girl, but the Warden had been a witness of enough himself to refute their story. The father teok them to his house and confronted them with the girl in order to give them a fair trial. He then told them that he would go down to the field and look at the locality, and the two culprits the father and the Warden went. Having arrived at the spot, the father drew a most substantial and passion-quelling cowhide from his cont and proceeded, as if governed by a sense of duty, to give one of the swains a castigation which, through his lines cottles, would have made the coldet December day seem quite torrid to him. inst., contains the following:

As to the crops, from which so much is expected to enable the great West to recover its credit and its business energies, there can be no question, now, that the yield of cereals, in all sections, will be quite up to the anticipations of the most asignine. The critical period, we-believe, is gone by, when rust, the weevil or the fly is to be feared, and in some sections the harvest is already begun under the most flattering anspices. There is no doubt, therefore, that we shall have a handsome surplus of whest, core and other products of the soil to meet any foreign demand which aircumstances may create.

On this point of foreign demand, however, prudence suggests that we should write in the su junctive mood and fature tense, for about all that can really be said, just now, is, that it is probable we shall be called upon to ship considerable Breadstuffs, but not until the winter is far advanced. 'It is well always to bear in midd that there is no deliciency, thus far in the crops in any part of Europe. The harvests in Great Britain and throughout the Continent promise to yield as plenteously as here; and under the everpresent influence of that fact, prices are at this moment at so low a point in the European markets that a hipmputs from this side are, well high out of the question. Occasientilly we hear of a few thousand bushels of Grain and a few hundred barrels of Plour going to London and hiverpool, but these are transactions which, under the circumstances, must be viewed simply as eccentricities rather than regular results of the laws which govern amply and ST.
